EXCERPT FROM D/FBIS DAILY LOG - 28 February 1979

Mr

1. [redacted] I signed the minutes of our coordination meeting in which it was agreed [redacted] will reimburse FBIS for non-salary costs of an FBIS editor [redacted] up to $30,000, the amount being subject to renegotiation after the actual cost experience of the first year. I said we would select the FBIS editor shortly and ensure [redacted] will find out candidate suitable.

In a confidential discussion on Monday, [redacted] pointed out that [redacted] is sometimes confused, having for example forgotten that he visited FBIS in 1968 and that there was no cause whatsoever for his being surprised at our threatened reduction of service in the absence of a [redacted] decision on the FBIS editor. [redacted] was not reelected by the [redacted] Administrative Board. His successor will be chosen in May and he will go on extended leave prior to retirement early next year. [redacted] said the [redacted] had been in great difficulty over the past year, but he believes the worst is over. The government audit, which has been concerned with possible duplication of monitoring efforts, should complete its study by the end of March. [redacted] does not believe [redacted] will be affected. He said the FBIS-CIA association was brought up at the Administrative Board when discussing the FBIS editor proposal, but State [redacted] approved our proposal in full knowledge of the association and without reservation.
